Will you please say that the oil machinery above referred to, does not come rom the oil regions of Overton county or elsewhere in Tennessee. Since the 15th of December, all the teams that the county hope that the grievance complained of will affords have been constantly engaged in hauling oil from the Overton county wells to the Comberland river, and something over two thousand barrels have arrived this eason in this city. A ride out on the olensville pike about two miles will give cular demonstration of the fact that on the rounds of the Tennessee Refinery are stored about sixteen hundred barrels at the present time. The Refinery is nearly completed, and will commence operations next week Meantime, the vield of oil in Overton county, instead of diminishing, is on the ncrease. The Hoosier well, which has recently been rebored, is now producing sixty barrels per day. Newman well No is capable of producing at least three handred barrels a day, and probably much more, but the yield is limited to the amount of transportation attainable. The Petroleum Transportation Company expects to supply soon as the weather will admit of con structing the necessary roads, etc., and have their arrangements completed for commencing the work in March.

Pegilistic Encounteratthe Capitol. Carr. HEYDY IN A NEW ROLE .- The instomary quietude of the sacred day at the Capitol was ruthlessly disturbed at au early hour on Sunday morning, in a manner to throw in the shade the week-day contests between Radical and Conservative legislators. It appears that for some little time a trouble had been brewing between Capt, Heydt, Superintendent of the building, and some of those employed in different capacities in the Capitol. It is asserted, with what show of truth we cannot undertake to say, that Heydt, in his interconnect with a great many, has not proved himself a model of courtesy—in short, not to put too fine a point on it, as Dickens would say, that he has been very domineering. Of this we will not say a word one way or the other, but merely give the current rumors as we heard them. The matter which was the nediate cause of the little rough-andtumble which brought the full length of granite floor of the Capitol, was something like this: On Sunday morning at quite an early hour, Heydt, instead of "Rapping, tapping gently at the chamber door, thumped very vigorously at the room i By the save: That any person petition of the Senate, and Mr. Smith the mesng the City Council for the privilege of senger of that body. The latter promptly came to the door, and confronted the Captain, who, after a very bluff selutation, applied to Smith an epithet not to be heard by ears polite. The latter was on the point punishing the intruder, but was dissuaded by his room-mate. About half from Cherry street to Ewing avenue, at an hour afterwards, while proceeding to breakfast, Smith was again accostedly, it is said-by Heydt, just inside the front door of the Capitol and near the Gov ernor's room. This time Smith responded in a style according with the strictest role build pavements on certain streets has not of the prize ring, for with a vigorous lentbeen enforced, especially on Summer, south hander he let fly at his Teutonic antag of Broad, and also on Cherry street, south onist, and genteelly laid him sprawling of the floor. The fallen warrior -so the story goes-white in his horizontal attitude, yelled so lustily for help that his sonoron onfusion which now exists on account of jargon could be heard a distance of about eleven squares. Smith passed on to his to recover his equanimity. In the mind of Gov. Brownlow the affair was considered of sufficient importance to send in a mes sage to the Legislature, asking that a full Previous to his little encounter with FERNELIUS calls disease an affection of he body, contrary, to nature; a purtubaits habit; a derangement of its courses. What disease is, sometimes elude uman intelligence, but some diseases are cnown-their origin, action, and even their antidotes. Whoever has discovered an actual remedy for one disease, has done something for his race. Dr. Ayer has lone more, for his medicines afford us the means to control and cure several dangeraus disorders. We rarely speak on medi cal subjects, preferring to leave them to shysicians, who understand them better. The Secretary will have no ocusion to move in the matter until called t neet maturing compounds. As they full due banks will be ready to accept script searing interest, and counting as reserve i exchange. Any one conversant with bank povements does not need to be told that, for clearing-house purposes, at least fiftymillions will be used until specie payments are restored, and the whole $80,000,000 will probably become a permanent loan as ong as gold is at a premium. If the rate of this loan is fixed at 4 per cent, it will have another important effect upon the money market by causing country banks to hold balances in this scrip rather than leave them with New York banks at the same interest. If this should be done call oans and discounts would advance in the leading cities, and commodities be forced to market and consumption more promptly instead of being held on speculation by large combinations, aided by an abundance of cheap money. The prospects for a steady and sure return to specie payments were never so good as at present. An obstacle to resumption is found by some people in the fear that the taxes will be reduced to a point when the annual interest and the ordinary expenses will not be met. But this fear is without substantial foundation, as the future will show. The labor of the nation set free from our taxes will be
